

International Workshop

THE ROLE AND EVALUATION OF EVIDENCE IN ECONOMIC ANALYSIS

Bologna, May 23-24, 2008

Sala seminari Biblioteca di Economia Walter Bigiavi, Via Belle Arti 33, Bologna

Friday May 23

10 a.m.

Maria Carla Galavotti (University of Bologna)

Opening remarks

Michel Mouchart (Université de Louvain La Neuve): Potential outcomes, counterfactuals, and structural modelling

Alessandro Vercelli (University of Siena):
Instability and empirical evidence in economics: the case of business-cycle theory

1 p.m. Lunch

2.30 p.m.

Philip Dawid (University of Cambridge):
Defining and identifying the effect of treatment on the treated

Alessio Moneta (Max Planck Institute, Jena):

Evidence and causality in econometrics

Mary Morgan (LSE):

How well do economic facts travel?

Saturday May 24

10 a.m.

Damien Fennell (LSE):

Is economics evidence-based?

Michael Joffe (Imperial College London):

Conditions for economic growth

1 p.m. Lunch

Convenor:

Maria Carla Galavotti

mariacarla.galavotti@unibo.it